

Communication, it is always about communication

Our specialty is communication. And we apply it in any possible means. We work with printing formats, off line IT support formats, design samples, audiovisual productions...

The objective is that each message becomes strong enough as to reach the widest public possible and becomes efficient and easy to understand by the addressee.

Although we use any type of format, we always have the assessment and cooperation of prestigious specialists in the various aspects involved. For example, we have the cooperation of specialists in printing on different surfaces, in interactive applications, architects, engineers, decorators, weavers, specialists in TV marketing, geographers, graphic designers, etc.

Some of the projects included in this section are fruit of this close cooperation: art catalogues, exhibitions, advertising CD-ROM... designed and produced by Interdixit.
